To Whom It May Concern:

I've had the pleasure of knowing Blake Hubert for almost 15 years as one of my closest and most trusted friends. Time and again, he has demonstrated his talents as an organized, responsible, and trustworthy individual and I'm confident that these abilities - coupled with his professional skillset - will make him successful at any endeavor that he chooses to pursue.

Blake and I met in 1998 as juniors in high school. A short two years later when the time came to choose a college roommate, I chose Blake without hesitation. We then lived together in Auburn for five years, forging a very strong friendship. I admired him as a very focused and driven student - always keeping his eye on the ball and knowing what he wanted. I attempted to emulate those qualities, as Blake always seemed to know what was best. He was an invaluable resource for me in both good times and bad.

When my girlfriend and I decided to marry in 2010, choosing the Best Man was the easiest decision I had to make. When potentially stressful situations arose, Blake remained calm and collected and allowed me to thoroughly enjoy the days leading up to the wedding. And when Blake married the love of his life, Malissa, in 2011, I'm extremely proud to say that I was his Best Man as well.

Blake's intelligence, ambition, and drive will certainly lead him to success and it is with pleasure that I share my experiences as his closest friend. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Warmest regards,
